Practice Overview

Jennie is a well-regarded and experienced specialist in oral and written advocacy in high-value, and complex, construction and energy disputes, resolved by way of arbitration or litigation.

Jennie was recently awarded “Construction Junior of the Year” for 2024 at the Legal 500 MENA Awards.

She is ranked as a leading junior by Chambers & Partners and the Legal 500 in Construction, Energy, International Arbitration and the Middle East. She has been described as “a legal wizard”, “a master tactician”, “meticulous and thorough”, “user-friendly and down-to-earth”, being “strategic and thoughtful”, having “an elegant drafting style”, “undaunted by large and complex cases”, “someone you want on your team” and “in reality, already a star”. She is also featured in a text of “40 under 40” rising arbitral practitioners from around the world.

Jennie’s practice is a balance of international arbitration and domestic litigation. Her experience includes four international airports, four power stations (including the world’s largest air-cooled and photovoltaic stations), three major hospitals, roads and tunnels and a national water network. Her arbitral experience includes disputes subject to the ICC, DIAC, ADCCAC, MCCI and UNCITRAL rules concerning projects in the UAE, Qatar, Oman, Australia, South Africa, Slovakia and Mauritius. Her recent domestic instructions include: (i) Building Safety Act 2022 cladding and fire safety matters, (ii) adjudication enforcements; (iii) “live” advice in relation to major London infrastructure/development projects; and (iv) a major PFI termination account dispute.

Jennie contributes to the Construction Law Reports, Keating on Construction Contracts, Keating on JCT, Keating on Offshore Construction and Marine Engineering, PLC and Halsbury’s Laws.

Before coming to the Bar, Jennie worked at the Law Commission on the reform of insurance law, unfair contract terms and fiduciary duties and prior to that, in Australia, at the Victorian Government Solicitor’s Office and for the Principal Judge of the Victorian Commercial Court.

- For Claimant acting for a global energy company in a number of DABs concerning two coal-fired power stations in South Jennie was part of an unled team of juniors coordinated by Calum Lamont, each of whom was responsible for running different DABs. Jennie was responsible for: running a (successful) DAB seeking prolongation costs in respect of one of the power stations, including drafting pleadings and settling witness statements and expert reports; and advising in relation to a claim in respect of the second power station.

International Arbitration

Jennie has a thriving international arbitration practice and specialises in high-value, and complex, construction and energy cases, including four international airports, four power stations (including the world’s largest air-cooled station), two major hospitals and a tunnel and road network.

She was recently awarded “Construction Junior of the Year” for 2024 at the Legal 500 MENA Awards and is featured in a text of “40 under 40” rising arbitral practitioners from around the world.

Examples include:

- For Respondent (with Calum Lamont KC and James Thompson) in a dispute concerning a road and tunnel network in Eastern Europe. Jennie’s tasks include: responding to applications; drafting memorial pleadings; assistance with preparation of witness and expert evidence; and preparation and appearance at forthcoming 3-week hearing.
- For Claimant (as sole counsel) in a dispute concerning a desalination project in the Gulf.
- For Claimant (with Richard Harding QC) in c.£120m ADCCAC final account arbitration concerning an international airport (with an area twice the size of the world’s tallest building). Jennie was afforded significant responsibility in preparing all aspects of the case (including drafting pleadings, assisting to manage a team of junior solicitors, expert reports and witness statements). The case raised issues of delay, acceleration and varied works.

- For Respondent (with David Thomas QC and Ben Sareen) in a USD $14.5m ICC arbitration concerning a photovoltaic energy plant in Qatar. The case raised matters of interpretation, implied terms, good faith, estoppel and willful misconduct. Jennie has been responsible for: all aspects of legal research and related submissions; drafting the Defence; drafting witness statements; drafting applications and notes for the Tribunal; drafting openings; preparing oral openings and cross examination for the hearing (recently re-listed for 2022); and preparation of a security for costs application.
- For Claimant acting for a global energy company in a number of DABs concerning two coal-fired power stations in South Africa. Jennie was part of an unled team of juniors coordinated by Calum Lamont, each of whom was responsible for running different DABs. Jennie was responsible for: running a (successful) DAB seeking prolongation costs in respect of one of the power stations, including drafting pleadings and settling witness statements and expert reports; and advising in relation to a claim in respect of the second power station.
- For Claimant (with David Thomas QC, Ben Sareen, Brenna Conroy and Harry Smith) in a £200m arbitration concerning an energy project in South Africa. Jennie assisted with preparation of the delay and disruption claim, gave contractual advice, drafted opening submissions, prepared cross examination of factual and expert witnesses, supported David Thomas QC during a three-week hearing, and prepared written and oral closing submissions.
- For Respondent (with Richard Harding QC and James Thompson) in a £600m DIAC arbitration concerning an airport in the Gulf, with a particular focus on IT system issues. Jennie was responsible for all aspects of the delay claim including: working with a team of three solicitors, working with delay and quantum experts, analysing the documentary evidence, drafting witness statements and supporting Richard Harding QC during a two- week hearing.
- For Claimant (with Marcus Taverner QC and James Thompson) in a £300m ICC Final Account arbitration concerning an airport in the Gulf.
- For Respondent (as sole junior with Richard Harding QC) in a £12.5m ICC arbitration concerning a sub-contract dispute relating to an airport in the Gulf. Jennie was the sole junior instructed and was responsible for preparing all aspects of the claim.
- For Claimant (with Lucy Garrett, Calum Lamont and Gibson Dunn & Crutcher LLP (Dubai)) in a $120m arbitration concerning an EPC project for the construction of a manufacturing plant in the Gulf raising issues of delay, disruption, acceleration, unlawful de-scoping, additional cost and the wrongful deduction of liquidated damages. Jennie was instructed following a last-minute change of counsel and drafted openings and cross examination.
- For Respondent (with Richard Harding QC and Lucy Garrett) in $2 billion ICC arbitration arising out of the termination of a hospital project in the Gulf.
- For Claimant (with Finola O'Farrell QC and Sam Townend) in a $127million ICC arbitration arising out of an LNG project in Australia.

Commercial

Reported cases: Hamad Aldrees & Partners v Rotex Europe Limited (2019) 184 Con LR 145

Examples include:

- Eco Green Management Limited v The Alchemist Bar & Restaurant Limited: Drafted Defence in payment claim for commercial electricity services, in which claimant sought to apply substantially higher rates reflective of the “energy crisis”. The defendant alleged wrongful termination, wrongful interpretation and denied that various alleged terms fell to be implied.
- Hamad Aldrees & Partners v Rotex Europe Limited (2019) 184 Con LR 145. Jennie was led by Simon Hargreaves QC and Piers Stansfield QC in this £46m, TCC claim concerning the sale of machines to a Saudi Arabian company. The judgment establishes a new principle regarding the incorporation of terms. Jennie worked on expert reports, preparation for trial (including drafting opening submissions and cross examination), supported Simon during trial and drafted closing submissions. As a result of Simon’s busy practice, Jennie was afforded significant responsibility in managing this claim and, after trial, took charge of written closing submissions, oral case management submissions and the hand over to Piers.
- Emergency injunction seeking the withdrawal of a call on a €24m bond arising out of the suspension of works to a Low Density Ammonium Nitrate facility in the Middle East. Jennie: drafted the applicant’s skeleton argument, claim form and proposed order; liaised with the court to secure an out of hours emergency telephone hearing; provided oral submissions as to why an emergency hearing was required; liaised with instructing solicitors; and assisted Stephen Furst QC with submissions on the application provided by way of telephone hearing.
- Advised on whether to seek an injunction to restrain a call on a performance bond where the alleged entitlement was in restitution.
- Advised on whether to file a proof of debt for a claim on an indemnity granted by a now insolvent defendant.
- Advised on the required time for service of papers in a possession hearing and whether time could be abridged.
- Assisted in advising on the likely forum and applicable law for a dispute between an English company and Qatari company whose main centre of operations was in Dubai, concerning a development in Qatar.

Construction & Engineering

Jennie is regularly instructed in relation to a wide range of construction and engineering disputes, including delay and disruption, loss and expense, defects, variations, contractual money claims, payment, termination, and associated insolvency and insurance matters. She appears (for employers, contractors and sub-contractors) in the TCC and County Courts, has a thriving international arbitration practice and is regularly instructed in relation to adjudications and DABs. She has extensive knowledge of the JCT, NEC and FIDIC standard forms.

Jennie was recently awarded “Construction Junior of the Year” for 2024 at the Legal 500 MENA Awards.

Reported cases: Hamad Aldrees & Partners v Rotex Europe Limited (2019) 184 Con LR 145, Van Oord UK Ltd v Allseas UK Ltd [2015] EWHC 3074 (TCC), Van Oord UK Ltd v Allseas UK Ltd [2016] 1 CostsLO 1 and Stellite Construction Ltd v Vascroft Contractors Ltd (2016) 165 ConLR 108, Fileturn Ltd v Lincoln Plaza Hotel Co Ltd [2022] EWHC 2277 (TCC).

Examples include:

- Taylor Wimpey v Galliford Try & Ors: Drafted amendments to Particulars of Claim to reflect Building Safety Act changes and additional defect claims in dispute concerning three residential apartment buildings. The claim relied (amongst other matters) on breaches of the Building Regulations (including fire safety matters). It was brought against three defendants pursuant to the Defective Premises Act 1972 and a collateral warranty, in tort, and in breach of an architect's appointment and the JCT Standard Form Building Contract with CD.

- Hill Partnerships Limited v KKM Architects & Ors: Drafting Defence and provision of advice in c£2m claim against architects concerning alleged fire safety defects.
